Good for John.

The inmates of a past house at Jellison were turned out, but Conductor Jno. Rose refused to let them board his train coming north on the L. & N.

Rev. T. H. Campbell exchanged pulpits Sunday with Rev. M. Honey, of Stanford. The latter delivered an excellent discourse which was enjoyed by a large congregation.

The much war talking indulged in about town goes to show that much patriotism abounds in the community. We would not give one regiment of Garrard county volunteers for ten regiments of "regulars."

It is remarkable that so few people are familiar with the national airs. The average citizen doesn't know "America" or "The Star Spangled Banner" from "Sugar in the Gourd."

Those crying the loudest now for Spanish blood will never smell powder. Just wait and see if they go. Nay, Nay, Pauline, they will sit here at home, and tell how it "orter" be done. 'Twas ever thus, and ever will be thus.

Mrs. M. D. Hughes is in Louisville this week looking over the new spring styles and getting points on up-to-date dress making. She will visit all the leading establishments and remain in the city a week or ten days.

I have just returned from the city with the cheapest line of Millinery ever brought to Lancaster. I will have my opening on Saturday April 9. Every lady is cordially invited.

Miss Sallie Tillitt.

Congressman Davidson.

Congressman Davidson is at present in Philadelphia on a brief sojourn, which recalls the following brief notice found in the Courier-Journal's Washington specials recently.

Judging from this morning's Philadelphia papers Congressman George M. Davidson made a big hit at the annual dinner of the Commercial Exchange in Philadelphia last night. Mr. Davidson followed Secretary Gage's financial address and spoke for a half hour on "The Bluegrass Region." He was frequently interrupted by applause.

"His address was witty and kept his hearers in continued laughter. When the Kentucky orator sat down," says the Record, "the assemblage rose and sang My Old Kentucky Home."

The farmers, the mechanic and the bicycle rider are liable to unexpected cuts and bruises. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is the best thing to keep on hand. It heals quickly and is a well known cure for piles, Stomach, Drug Store.

GENERAL GORDON

To Lecture at Stanford Next Thursday Night, the 7th.

Gen. Gordon will lecture at Walton's Opera House, Stanford, next Thursday evening, the 7th, at 7:30 o'clock. This announcement is hailed with delight by the many persons who know Gen. Gordon's ability. He is beyond doubt, one of the brainiest men in the nation.

and, as this is probably his last appearance in this section of the state, all who can should hear him. General Gordon's subject will be "The Lost Cause," and this lecture is pronounced equally as good, if not better than his several others. Those intending to go over should drop a card to Col. W. P. Walton, who will take great pleasure in reserving seats.

Trespass.

Mr. S. B. Henry, superintendent of Lancaster Cemetery, gives notice that he will proceed against any one who rides or drives over graves or lots. People in procession are requested to observe this rule and wait for their turn to drive out regularly.

False Report.

It was reported in town this morning that a negro woman had come from Richmond and was in one of the Battle Row shanties with small-pox. Marshal Walker, Judge Burdette, Jim Hamilton and others made a diligent search and failed to find anything to bear out the rumor.

Now They Kick.

Those of our citizens who were in such a hurry to plant their gardens will have to do most of the work over, as the recent heavy rains washed the seeds out of the ground. The weather is likely to turn and freeze out what the rain did not destroy, as the seasons are mighty curious these late years.

A New Physician.

Dr. G. B. Lawrence, recently of Mt. Vernon, has rented the office of the late Dr. W. S. O'Neal and will locate in Lancaster to practice his profession. Dr. Lawrence comes highly recommended as a physician and gentleman, and our people will, of course, gladly welcome him into our town. See his card elsewhere in THE RECORD.

Doing It Well.

Jno. Farra and Jim Hamilton are seeing to it that every man, woman and child in town is vaccinated. Jim carries a pocketful of needles and any fellow refuses to go to the doctor, Jim backs him up in the corner and shoots it to him. He is quite an expert. Farra is a little shy on performing the operation but sees that the doctor gets the ones he finds.

Spring Opening.

Miss Minnie Eastham, the Danville milliner, has just returned from New York City where she purchased a lovely line of the very latest Spring Millinery. These goods were selected with great care and are the prettiest to be seen in Central Kentucky this season. Miss Eastham will have her Spring opening tomorrow, Saturday, and the ladies of Lancaster and Garrard are cordially invited to attend. It will repay one to see these goods.

"A word to the wise is sufficient" and a word from the wise should be sufficient, but you ask, who are the wise? Those who know. The oft repeated experience of trustworthy persons may be taken for knowledge. Mr. W. M. Terry says Chamberlain's Cough Remedy gives better satisfaction than any other in the market. He has been in the drug business at Elkton, Ky., for twelve years; has sold hundreds of this remedy and nearly all other cough medicines manufactured, which shows conclusively that Chamberlain's is the most satisfactory to the people, and is the best. For sale by R. E. McRobert's, Lancaster Ky.

FOR CONGRESS.

In obedience to the requests of Democrats in every part of the Eighth Congressional District, and in accordance with my desire to be of service to the Democratic party and the country, in critical and important times, I announce myself a candidate for Congress, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

As a loyal Democrat, I have always supported the nominees and platforms of the Democratic party and I now support the platform adopted by the last National Democratic Convention, held at Chicago.

I am sincerely grateful for the cordial support given me by the Democrats of the Eighth Congressional District in the past, and I have tried to show my appreciation of their confidence and kindness, by strenuous efforts, to be a faithful and efficient Representative.

If honored by the nomination, I believe, I can with the aid of my brother Democrats, redeem the district, and in the future as in the past my best efforts shall be given to the faithful discharge of all duties required of me.

JAMES B. MCKINLEY.
March 15, 1908. Richmond, Ky.

LATEST developments indicate that the limit of congressional patience has been reached, and that by to-morrow, and, perhaps today, war will be declared unless Spain recedes from her position and grants absolute independence to Cuba. Nothing short of this will be tolerated, as indicated by congressional proceedings Tuesday and Wednesday when a flood of resolutions for intervention or war poured in, and by a conference of fifty Republican members of Congress held. Dispatches say President McKinley can no longer delay the crisis, and his chief ally, Speaker Reed, for one, finds himself a Samson shorn of his locks. Resolutions for immediate intervention or declaring war against Spain came thick and fast in both houses of Congress—from Republicans, Democrats, silver Republicans and Populists. All think the day of reckoning and time for decisive action has arrived. Representative Marsh in his resolution used the language of the resolution declaring war against England in 1812, substituting Spain for England. Senator Foraker's resolution was brief and pointed, recognizing the independence of Cuba and declaring for intervention. It authorized the President "to use the entire land and naval forces of the United States to put them into effect." Other equally as hot resolutions were showered in both House and Senate.

McKinley is showing his teeth to the mad congress that wants to fight him. He has announced to members, who have demanded immediate action and making threats, that he is President of the United States and will follow the course he thinks wise. He has told them that if congress desires to head off all negotiations that may lead to the freedom of Cuba without the shedding of more blood, it has the right to do so, but that he felt it his duty to tell the American people to exhaust every honorable means of bringing about the independence of the island without war. He has authorized the correspondents to state that he is unalterable in his determination that Cuba must be free, and if that freedom can not be accomplished by agreement with Spain, it will be enforced by that war which preparations are so vigorously made.

Matters at the capital are at a white heat, and there is no telling what an hour may bring forth.

THE Richmond Pantograph man has been studying up on the pronunciation of Spanish names. The Spaniards, as in all other languages, proper names are not always pronounced according to rules, but in most cases they are. The Pantograph editor says: A has the sound of ah, e the sound of a, i the sound of o, o is long as in pole, j the sound of h, and n as in yule. A double ll sounds like ly in Z has the sound of th. Y has the sound of long e. C frequently has the sound of th, and so does S. X often has the h sound. The stress is usually on the second syllable or next to the last when more than one syllable. To we have in Blanco, Bionko. De Lome is Day Lo-Ma, Hernabe is Jayer-NAM-bay. Gomez is Go-mayth. Garcia is Gar-the-ah. Pando is Pahnd-o. Viscaya is Veeth-ca-ah. Sagasta, Sah-gah-sta. Pelayo, Pay-lah-o. Almirante Aguirre, Ah-mey-roh-lay-ay. Ah-kane-do. Infanta Maria Teresa. Een-fahn-tah Mah-re-ah Tay-ray-ah. Don Antonio Ulloa, Doan Ah-uh-to-ne-o Ule-lo-ah. Infanta Isabel, Een-fahn-tate Ee-es-ah-bale. Castilla, Cah-teel-yah. Chihuahua, She-wah-wah. Almirante Aguirre, Ah-mey-rain-tay Ah-kane-do. These rules properly followed give the correct pronunciation except in cases where custom gives some other.

We were told in Washington by a democrat, who is one of the most conservative members of the Senate, that the only reason of delay in declaring war was that this country was short of ammunition. We have the machinery but the explosives are short. It is in order to lay in a supply of these that so much time has been lost in making demands upon Spain. He said it was easy enough to get into the fight, as we had all justifiable grounds for it, but Spain would be hard to down, our ammunition was short and it would be absolute folly to engage in hostilities until we were fully prepared. We were told this with the understanding that the president wanted the matter kept quiet, but Saturday's papers told of a cyn-bling-headed congressman giving away the matter, and it was published to the four winds.

Probably eight thousand enthusiastic people saw the grand ship, Kentucky, glide into the ocean at Newport News Thursday. As per program, Miss Christine Bradley, the beautiful and accomplished daughter of our former townsman, Gov. W. O. Bradley, smashed over the vessels prow a bottle of pure water taken from the spring on the farm where Abraham Lincoln lived. A band of music played "Old Kentucky Home", the Kentuckians yelled and, altogether, the ceremonies are considered the most enthusiastic ever witnessed at a launching. A big reception was held, at which Gov. Bradley responded to the toast, "Kentucky." The Governor's speech is highly complemented by the press and is indeed a fine one. The dispatches say that many flasks of old bourbon whisky were thrown at the ship by superstitious and enthusiastic Kentuckians.

KENTUCKIANS' love for the cup that cheers is the subject for many so-called joke writers to work off their stale productions. The eastern press is now straining its brain to work off some thing funny over the report that when Richmond, Va., was reached by the Kentucky excursionists to the launching, not a drop of water was found in any of the ten Pullman cars. The railroad employees made the discovery, there having been no complaint from the passengers. If Kentuckians have the price and want a drink, it's nobly's business, and the job at the colonies by those who do not drink simply because they are too stingy to buy it, are getting to be both stale and monotonous.

Gov. WORTHINGTON vetoed the cigarette bill, saying it was unconstitutional. If there was any chance of the bill checking the use of the little coffin nails, it ought to have stood, constitutional or unconstitutional. We do not object to how many cymbaling-headed dudes they kill, but we would like to have the vile odor abolished from public places. We would rather have a live skunk pitched into our office than for a puffing, stinking cigarette fiend to enter.

We had the pleasure last week of traveling in company with Mr. Green R. Keller, of the Carlisle Mercury, who was on his way to the launching of the ocean bull-dog, Kentucky. Mr. Keller is a gentleman exceedingly well-versed on prominent men and matters, and it would be hard to find more congenial company. He has been in the newspaper harness all his life and there is no branch of the work upon which he is not thoroughly posted.

We talked with many prominent and conservative men in Washington last week and all were of the opinion that the United States would have just a little harder time whipping Spain than most people expect.

UNCLE SAM had better not be too sure of licking Spain. Over-confidence is a bad article to have around.

It will not be as easy to thrash Spain as it is to roll off a log.

Children like it, it saves their lives. We mean One Minute Cough Cure, the infallible remedy for coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis, grippe, and all throat and lung troubles. Stormes Drug Store.

HUBBLE.

Miss Katie White is still quite sick. The washing rain have done great damage to the plowed ground in this section.

Mr. El White was in our vicinity Saturday and Sunday. Miss Katie Walters spent Saturday and Sunday with her parents, and attended preaching. We were glad to see her in Hubble again. Mr. and Mrs. Price Sutton, and Miss Bettie Alexander, of McCreary, were here for a day or two the first of the week visiting friends.

Many fear that early fruit will be injured by freeze later, as peach trees have already bloomed.

The little son and daughter of Mr. James Smith, spent last week with their aunt, Miss Sallie Smith.

The wheat crop of this section is better than for several years, and the prospect for a big crop is flattering.

Mr. Verge Rice happened to a very serious accident Sunday. While returning home from church his horse became frightened and did great damage to the buggy, but did not hurt him.

Little Maggie Wilmot is rapidly recovering. She was badly hurt by being thrown from a mule two weeks ago.

Mrs. W. H. Bland has received a supply of premium goods from her company in Cincinnati, and will commence the delivery of same this week.

E. S. Young and brother Joe, of Cumberland county, lotted 35 yearling heifers over Sunday, with S. M. Spoonamore, which they disposed of on the Lancaster market Monday, at fair prices.

The 70 acres of land advertised by J. P. Bland for sale, was bought by his son, W. H. Bland, Monday at Lancaster, at $20.10 per acre. He will likely build and make it his home.

Thousands of sufferers from grippa have been restored to health by one Minute Cough Cure. It quickly cures coughs, colds, bronchitis, pneumonia, grippa, asthma, and all throat and lung diseases. Stormes Drug Store.

Wanamaker & Brown are giving each customer from $3 to $5, in the price of suits, as the customer gives that much and gets a perfect fit. M. D. Huesz, Agent.

MARKSBURY.

Mrs. Mary Harlan is suffering with leg-grippe.

Mr. George Bright is quite sick at C. A. Robinson's with pneumonia.

Mr. Andrew Popo, of Boyle, was at the bedside of his sister, Mrs. Harlan, Sunday.

N. H. Hagie, our enterprising merchant is receiving new goods every day, and is now ready to supply all demands.

Rev. W. Kuykendall left Sunday for Waddy, where he will hold a two weeks' protracted meeting.

Misses Georgia Henry, Rella and Alie Arnold, of Lancaster, were the guests of Miss Sallie Herring, Sunday. A. D. Hughes and Mrs. Katie Aldridge returned Tuesday from the funeral of their aunt, Miss Sophia Hughes. Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Parks and little daughter, Waddie Lee, of Bryantville, spent Tuesday with the family of H. D. Aldridge.

A little boy asked for bottle of "get up in the morning as fast as you can," the druggist recognized a household name for "DeWitt's Little Early Risers," and gave him a bottle of those famous little pills for constipation, headache, liver and stomach troubles. Stormes Drug Store.

MT. HEBRON.

The rains of the past week have put the roads in a very bad condition.

Noah Marsee, who has been ill with pneumonia, at Frankfort, returned to his home.

Rev. J. L. Willis was again in his pulpit at this place Saturday and Sunday, and delivered two excellent sermons.

Eugene Berkele bought a calf from J. A. Crawford, at $15.

Miss Ida Duncan, who has been teaching a three month's school at High Bridge, returned to her home here Saturday.

The good sisters of Mt. Hebron church, having finished one of the quilts for the benefit of the church, brought it forward Saturday. After services it was sold to Rev. J. L. Willis at five dollars. The other one will be sold at the next church meeting.

Geo. Huffman, who was sentenced four years ago to the penitentiary for seven years, was pardoned a few days ago by Lieut. Governor Worthington, and is at his home near here.

Thirty-five years make a generation. That is how long Adolph Fisher, of Zanesville, O., suffered from piles. He was cured by using three boxes of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salver. Stormes Drug Store.

BUCKEYE.

A number of our people were vaccinated last week.

There was one case of small pox on Posey Ridge, Madison county last week, but was taken to the post house at Richmond Saturday night.

The news went out last week that Buckeye had a case of small pox, but happily there was more mischief than truth in the report.

Aunt Paulina Beaumont, as she was familiarly called by all who knew her, was laid to rest beside her husband in the old family Beaumont burial ground, Sunday afternoon, aged 93. A large number of friends and relatives were present at the burial.

Died, on the 29th inst., Mr. Freeman Lane, burial the following day at Buckeye. The bereaved family have the sympathy of the community.

We had a big dog fight in which several dogs were engaged on our street Monday, and was very enjoyable for a time, judging from the amount of hissing and laughing done by the spectators.

A drove of 50 cattle passed through here Monday, belonging to John and Newt Hendren, of Madison, which they had bought at Lancaster county, paying $20 per head.

Allen Teaster bought at Lancaster county 15 cattle at $15 per head.

John Lee Ray, of Stanford, visited his parents here Sunday, accompanied by Dr. Barge, the optician. Miss Leila Hendren, of Madison, made a flying visit to Miss Hattie Jones, Saturday. James Guley, who has been sick, is better at this writing. Mrs. Harrison Ray is on the sick list. Mrs. W. G. Jones is still confined to her bed.

SETTLES NERVOUS BANKRUPTCY.

Investigation shows that men who succeed are men of brains—strong nerves—great will-power. Ordinary food cannot supply the vital forces which people with active brains and bodies require. Bicola Pills feed the nerves—make the mind bright, muscles strong—make flesh and blood and give perfect health to Men and Women. THE TURNERS OF PHILADELPHIA make Bicola Pills.

J. E. Buckley, Chief Clerk National Hotel, Washington, D. C., testifies that he was all run down—a shadow of his former self—Bicola Pills gave him wonderful relief—he gained over twenty pounds after using them. Lancaster agent, E. E. McRoberts, Pharmacist. Turners' Little Liver Tasters—A very small pill. Turn your liver. Cure Sick Headache—Biliousness—Indigestion.

FLATWOOD.

More rain, more mud. W. H. Farr sold two calves to Theo. Collett for $44.

Thomas Worrell bought a hog from Charlie Leavell for $2.

Milton Grayson returned from the mountains a few days since with some cattle for sale.

Wm. Coldiron sold his hogs a few days since for $1.2.

Ammy Parks sold some hay to Jake Clouse for 45¢ per hundred.

Ben Calico spent Sunday with Jas. Hawkins. James Naylor spent Sunday at James Miller's.

Sunday school has convened at Good Hope church.

We print price lists.

PREACHERSVILLE.

Wm Lind and family have been visiting their mother, Mrs. Payne. Jack Mullins, of Brodhead, is visiting his grand niece, aunt Bettie Cummins. Miss Maul Siler has returned home from Williamsburg, where she has been attending school. Woodard Little, of Dallas, Texas, is here on a visit to old friends. He preached at the Methodist church Sunday and Sunday night. Misses Annie Suda and Wadie Thompson, of Mt. Vernon, are visiting at the home of their uncle, A. J. Thompson.

S. Morgan bought several hogs here last week from different parties for 3-4 cents.

Mat Siler has returned from the mountains with 50 head of cattle and some sheep.

W. P. Durham, of Corbin, is here on business and will build a new store house for J. L. Hutchins while here.

Benj. Hobbs sold a horse to Mr. Horton for $40.

James Thompson, son of J. J. Thompson, and Miss Lottie Oldest, daughter of S. W. Harber, eloped to Jeffersonville, Ind., and was made husband and wife. Congratulations to the happy couple.

Will Elmore sold a cow to Dick Robinson, for $24.

WARNING AGAINST SMALL-POX.

Office of State Board of Health.

BOWLING GREEN, KY., MARCH 25, 1908. To the officials, Physicians and People of Kentucky.

This Board again gives warning that our State is seriously threatened with an epidemic of small pox, and that conditions already exist in Bell, Whitley and Madison counties, and cases are reported in Knox and Mason counties. So far the disease has been almost exclusively confined to negroes, but this exemption of the white race cannot long be hoped for if it continues to spread.

In spite of repeated and continued warnings from this county and municipal boards, each community so far attacked was unprepared, a large per cent. of the population was unvaccinated, and dangerous and costly delays occurred before the character of the disease was recognized, and hospital and other provisions could be made for the sick and exposed.

Under our laws this expense must be met by the counties and cities affected, and it can only be made small by proper preparation before a case appears. Had Middleboro and Bell county been thus forearmed and ready to care for the first cases, thousands of dollars would have been saved in actual outlay, very many thousands in loss of business, and the officials and community the mortification of clamoring for outside aid to do what they were amply able to do for themselves.

In view of these facts, the Board advises that each town and city at once pass and enforce a compulsory vaccination ordinance, beginning with the colored race, but reaching everybody; that isolation hospitals, tents, and suitable ground for their location, be secured; that visiting and strange negroes be hunted out, vaccinated and kept under observation, and especially that physicians practicing amongst negroes be instructed as to the difficulty of recognizing mild cases of small pox and varioloid in this race, and of the importance of calling in experienced counsel in every doubtful or suspicious case. Those having this work in hand should deal firmly, but kindly, with every one, advising that this work is being done for their protection as well as that of the community.

Quarantines against infected places, the first resort of unprepared towns, do much actual harm by giving rise to a false sense of security, thus retarding the work of vaccination and preparation, and, if rigidly enforced, are much more expensive than the precautions herein advised, besides causing much financial loss by interference with travel and commerce. No quarantines are to be legally established without the consent of this Board, and this will not be given unless the circumstances are very exceptional. Communities maintaining unauthorized quarantines are liable to persons suffering injuries or damages therefrom.

At this time every person in Kentucky should be vaccinated or re-vaccinated. If properly protected it will not take, and if it will be needed of it. The vaccination should always be done in three places about an inch apart, by a competent physician, with clean hands and instruments upon a well cleaned arm, by scraping off the scurf skin without drawing blood, and should be allowed to dry thoroughly before the sleeve is put down, and should be protected for a few days with travel and commerce. This will give the best chance for a successful result, with much less soreness and suffering.

Fresh, reliable virus may always be had from the National Vaccine Establishment, Washington City, or from its agents, The Henry Drug Co., of Louisville. Vaccination from the arm of a child known to be healthy is equally reliable.

This Board holds itself in readiness to aid local boards to the extent of its powers, but little aid will be needed from it if each community will intelligently prepare to take care of itself. By order of the Board.

J. N. MCCORMACK, Secretary.

Spring Medicine

It is true wisdom for everybody to take a thorough course of Swift's Specific just at this season of the year. The blood is sluggish and impoverished, and the system is full of impurities which should be eliminated. In addition to thoroughly cleansing the blood, and toning up the system so as to avoid loss of appetite and a general run-down feeling in the spring, S. S. S. so strengthens and builds up as to fortify against the many forms of dangerous illness that abound during the hot summer season. It is a very small matter to take this precaution but it insures health and strength all summer. Swift's Specific is far ahead of all other remedies for this purpose. It is a real blood remedy which promptly purifies the blood and thoroughly renovates the entire system, tones and strengthens the stomach, and renews the appetite. It is the only safe tonic, being purely vegetable, and the only blood remedy guaranteed to contain no arsenic, sulphur, mercury, potash or other mineral substance, which is of so much importance to all who know the injurious effects of these drugs. Nature should be assisted by nature's remedy, S. S. S. Take S. S. S. and be well all summer.

Gives Summer Health

In Memory of Sam H. Arnold.

I heard this morning at dawn's earliest ray, By a place so happy, death had called that way.

My heart sped on wings to the home of the friend, I thought how gladly some help I would lend.

But I am as helpless as those who weep By the bier of the son who lies asleep, While whispered by those who knew him in life, Heaven pity the family, poor Thomp and his wife.

We know it was God who called for your son; Even from this we shrink ever and anon. The decrees of a Master are hard to obey, When they are ours who fall in the sickles way.

Way was he called in the Spring time of his age? Reason offers in his stead a sage. The oak and the rose are exposed to this touch! Manhood and youth must surrender as such.

All who live must share his fate, Twixt the morn of life and the evening late. He was honest, manly and his word was good, Not one of these, would I change if I could.

Be guided by this onward tread, The cloud will move, you will see ahead, Look beyond the grave to the home of his God, Meekly bow and kiss the rod.

Written in memory of poor, dear Sam, By a friend who loved him, and his name is Jim.

It is a great leap from the old-fashioned doses of blue-mass and nauseous physics to the pleasant little pills known as DeWitt's Little Early Risers. They cure constipation, sick headache and biliousness. Stormes Drug Store.

Acetylene Gas, The Light of the future.

Why not be independent and own your own little gas plant which will give four times more light than ordinary gas or electric lights at one half the cost? MRS. MOODY HARDEN.

CENTRAL RECORD.

FRIDAY, April 1, - 1898.

PERSONAL.

John Baughman, of Boyle, was here Sunday.

Miss Carolina Woods is the guest of Miss Mary Miller.

Miss Jennie Wallace has been visiting Mrs. J. S. Robinson.

Miss Mae Hughes was the hostess of the Cincin Club Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Center are visiting the family of T. B. Robinson.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Estes, of Kirksville, visited relatives here Sunday.

Miss Mary Gill is at home for a short vacation from the Oxford Ohio College.

Miss Lula Graham, of Glendale, O., has arrived, and will trim for Mrs. Harden.

Misses Dore Harris and Pattie Beazley have returned from a visit to Lexington.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Walden have returned to Danville, after a few days visit here.

Mr. W. J. Romans is, we are glad to note, able to be out again, after a brief illness.

Mr. Ed Sparks who has been sick for some time gradually improving. —Danville Advocate.

THE RECORD is glad to note the improvement in the condition of its good friend, Mr. T. W. Reil.

Messdames Jno. W. Miller and M. D. Hughes are guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Hughes in Louisville.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Arnold, of Hattiesville, visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Stone, Sunday.

Misses Sallie Tillett and Laura Smith have returned from the cities with loads of spring millinery.

Mr. Asa Runyon, of Solon, Iowa, is visiting his sister, Mrs. Thos. Stone, whom he has not met in thirty years.

Mrs. Moody Harden has gotten back from the East where she purchased a large and lovely line of spring millinery.

Mr. W. I. Williams leaves Saturday to visit his parents in Campbellsville and attend circuit court now in session in that city.

Capt. W. J. Kinnaird is still at a Cincinnati hospital and, we regret very much to say, has been having much trouble with his injured limb.

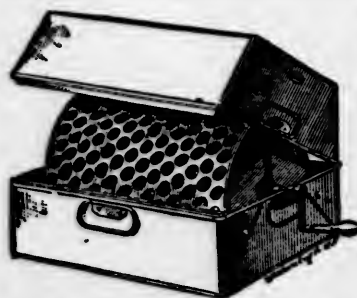

Miss Mary Walker, of Garrard, is with her aunt, Mrs. J. C. Hays. Will T. Mattingly, of Lancaster, spent Sunday, with his parents here. —Stanford Journal.

A fairly good likeness of Miss Nan Harris appeared in Sunday's Conner Journal. Miss Harris is a member of the "Junior Set" and one of Lancaster's prettiest and fascinating young ladies.

The many friends of Mr. J. M. Harrison will be glad to learn that he is improving in health. He came out from Washington some days since to take a well-earned rest and visit relatives at Parksville.

Joe Waters, who was recently shot in the foot by the accidental discharge of his rifle, is very much improved. We judge he is about well, as he is "getting there with both feet" in the Harrodsburg saying.

Handsome invitations have been issued to the marriage of Miss Pattie Beazley and Mr. John Baughman, as announced in last week's RECORD. The wedding will take place in the Christian church and the ceremony will be said by Rev. T. H. Campbell.

The drug stores are getting their soda-fountains in shape for the summer.

Plants, Plants, Plants.

I will have the earliest and best varieties of tomatoes and Cabbage plants as soon as the weather will permit there being set out. Goe Smith, Jr.

I have just received a new and complete line of Spring and Summer millinery and would be pleased to have my friends and customers call and examine them.

Respt. Mrs. A. S. HASELDEN, Bryansville, Ky.

Suit For $3,000 Damages.

A suit has been filed by Mrs. Rice Burnside, asking damages in the sum of $3,000, against James I. Hamilton.

Last spring while exhibiting a horse on the Public Square, Mr. Hamilton ran into the vehicle occupied by Mrs. Burnside breaking it and throwing the lady out. Mr. Hamilton claims the occurrence was unavoidable.

Patent Needle.

Geo. T. Arnold has sent to Washington to be patented a needle for surgeons to use in sewing up wounds.

Local doctors say it is a great success and will fill a long felt want. We wish George much success.

M. L. Youm, Cameron, Pa., says "I was a sufferer for ten years, trying all kinds of pills, remedies, but without success, DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve was recommended to me. I used one box. It has effected a permanent cure." As a permanent cure for piles DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve has no equal.

Excellent Work.

Mr. R. E. Hughes, who is now on the Louisville Commercial, was sent by that paper to the launching of the Kentucky, and his write-up was the best we have seen. Bob began newspaper work in Lancaster and, by his untiring energy, has pushed to the front ranks of Kentucky reporters.

If he were given a "Kentucky" column or department on the Commercial it would be a winning card for that already popular paper.

Poor Court Day.

Monday was the poorest court day we have had in the past year. The rains descended and the flood came, keeping the traders and farmers at home. Only a few head of cattle were on the market, the sales of which are reported elsewhere in THE RECORD.

No mules, horses, hogs or anything, save the few cattle, were on the streets. It is estimated that not more than 150 people came in.

Rheumatism Cured.

My wife has used Chamberlain's Pain Balm for rheumatism with great relief, and I can recommend it as a splendid liniment for rheumatism and other household uses for which we have found it valuable. —W. J. CUYLER, RED CREEK, N. Y.

Mr. Cuyler is one of the leading merchants of this village and one of the most prominent men in this vicinity.

Henry Patterson. Want to go right now.

Nine out of every ten others in Garrard county. Yes.

It is Easy to Tell.

People who fail to look after their health are like the carpenter who neglects to sharpen his tools. People are not apt to get anxious about their health soon enough. If you are "not quite well" or "half sick" have you ever thought that your kidneys may be the cause of your sickness?

It is easy to tell by setting aside your urine for twenty-four hours, a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys. When urine stains linen it is evidence of kidney trouble. Too frequent desire to urinate, scanty supply, pain or dull ache in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

There is satisfaction in knowing that the great remedy Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root, fulfills every wish in relieving weak or diseased kidneys and all forms of bladder and urinary troubles. Not only does Swamp-Root give new life and activity to the kidneys—the cause of trouble, but by treating the kidneys it acts as a tonic for the entire constitution. If you need a medicine take Swamp-Root—it cures. Sold by druggists, price fifty cents and one dollar.

You may have a sample bottle and pamphlet both sent free by mail, upon receipt of three two-cent stamps to cover cost of postage on the bottle. Mention THE CENTRAL RECORD and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The proprietors of this paper guarantee the genuineness of this offer.

Womens' and Misses' Garments.

Go to Mrs. M. D. Hughes and see the latest styles, and Wamaker and Browns' samples, for Womens' tailor-made suits, waists, skirts, also Misses' Jackets and suits, at Philadelphia prices. Perfect fit guaranteed. I also have boys' suits in the latest style, at greatly reduced prices.

STATE NEWS HAPPENINGS.

EX-SENATOR BLACKBURN

Taken Suddenly Ill in Washington—He Will Probably Be About in a Day or Two. WASHINGTON, March 28.—Considerable alarm was created Friday among the friends of ex-Senator J. C. S. Blackburn, of Kentucky, by the report that he had suffered a stroke of paralysis while returning from the launching of the two battle ships at Newport News. Senator Blackburn was overcome while passing from the boat to his carriage and was taken to his hotel in a semi-conscious state. Later in the day he recovered sufficiently to talk and, Friday night it was stated that he was out of danger and would probably be about in a few days. It was stated that the senator's heart was not involved as was at first supposed, but that the indisposition was only the recurrence of an old malady from which he has suffered before.

KENTUCKY FARMERS

Near Owensboro Removing Their Household Effects and Stock.

OWENSBORO, Ky., March 25.—The water continues its steady rise of an inch an hour, and only lacks a foot of the January flood stage. For 50 miles up and down the river the farmers have abandoned their houses, and their stock has been removed to higher ground. The small packets on Green river are busy moving corn and stock. A few feet more water and local packets will stop running, because landing places are under water. At Owensboro there is no immediate danger except to the celiose factory, which could be wrecked by a thirty-foot cave-in, at a loss of about $300,000. The banks, however, have been protected by sand bags, and a force of men are ready with more. Only a severe windstorm will do any great damage. The wheat prospect, which was the best for years in all the bottom lands of Indiana and Kentucky, has been ruined.

Anti-Cigarette Bill Vetted.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 25.—Lieut. Gov. Worthington, acting governor in the absence of Gov. Bradley, Thursday vetoed the anti-cigarette bill. The bill was introduced by Mr. Walker, of Owensboro, and was passed in both houses by an overwhelming majority. It is vetoed on constitutional grounds.

The measure was stringent in its provisions and made it an offense to have cigarettes or cigarette material in possession, as well as to manufacture, sell, loan or use the same. It would have been a great blow to the tobacco trade if it had become a law.

May Call an Extra Session.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 25.—It was rumored here Friday night that Gov. Bradley, before the late adjournment of the legislature, held a conference with Speaker Beckham and other legislators, and intimated that in case of war, which he believes is nearly certain, an extra session of the legislature would be called. The extra session, it is presumed, would be called to make provision for a better equipment of the state troops.

Driven Out By High Water.

NEWPORT, Ky., March 25.—The homes of more than 500 families of Newport were surrounded by water at daylight Saturday morning. So great was the rise during the night that at daybreak many families found themselves compelled to desert their homes. The water had reached Fifth street Saturday afternoon and surrounded the houses at the corner of Isabella and Fifth. Third and Fourth streets are both under water.

Kentucky Sharpshooters.

PLEASANTVILLE, Ky., March 25.—In the event of war with Spain, Isaac N. Johnson, captain of the Sixth Kentucky infantry during the civil war, and author of "Four Months in Libya," will ask President McKinley's permission to organize a company of volunteer Kentucky sharpshooters.

Child Sealed to Death.

ALBANY, Ky., March 25.—At Waterview, Cumberland county, Jessie Harger, aged four years, pulled a pot of boiling coffee over. Her mouth was open and the coffee scalded her mouth, throat and face so that she died in a short time.

Lynch Party After Dyer.

PAINTSVILLE, Ky., March 25.—A lynching party is after Everett Dyer, who shot and killed Charles Anderson, deputy sheriff of Magoffin county Saturday, while Anderson was attempting to arrest Dyer.

Used Red Ink.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 25.—The First regiment, Kentucky state guards, is preparing for war. Col. Castleman, commanding, issued an order for captains of companies to be present at the armory from 8 to 9 o'clock p. m., daily, for the purpose of enlisting men to complete the compliment authorized by law for each company. The order was written in red ink.

Convicts Inoculated Against Disease.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 25.—Penitentiary Surgeon Branner has vaccinated 900 convicts during the last three days.

Heavy Froze.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 25.—Heavy frosts fell here Thursday night, doing considerable damage to the gardeners of Jefferson county and nipping the fruit trees that had started to bud. Reports from the state indicate there were frosts in all sections. The damage to fruit can not be estimated, but it is not thought to have been severe.

Bath County Buying Turpines.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 25.—The Bath county fiscal court has contracted for turpines to the amount of $25,000. Three roads are yet to be purchased.

Vaccination Order.

SHREVEVILLE, Ky., March 25.—City council held a special meeting and ordered compulsory vaccination for every man, woman and child in the city.

Shelbyville, Ky., March 25.—City council held a special meeting and ordered compulsory vaccination for every man, woman and child in the city.

EVERY BRIDE

and wife should know about the preparation that for half a century has been helping expectant mothers bring little ones into the world without danger and the hundred and one discomforts and distractions incident to child-birth. It is applied externally, which is the only way to get relief. Medicines taken internally will not help and may result in harm.

Mother's Friend

LOUISVILLE BREATHES EASIER.

Flood Situation Improving But Many Families Are Homeless.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 30.—The cheering intelligence comes from above that the rivers are all falling and that by Wednesday morning the river here will be on a decline. The worst is over and it was well that it came just as it did for a couple of feet more would have put the muddy water over the embankment along the river front between the cut-off and the foot of First street. All the point would have been submerged and 500 families rendered homeless. Shippingport even now is under water and the people are going to and from their houses in boats.

Shooting at a Church.

BEATYVILLE, Ky., March 29.—During a meeting at a church eight miles from here Jefferson Johnson shot Andrew Strong in the head, and it is thought that he can not live. Both are young men and had been on the outs for some time. Johnson is a son of Hon. T. C. Johnson, an attorney of this place. Strong's father is Judge Alex. Strong, ex-judge of Lee county.

Backwater Surrounds Sturgis.

STURGIS, Ky., March 28.—The Ohio river is still rising at the rate of an inch an hour, and Caseyville is already partly submerged. Merchants and citizens are preparing to move out, as there is no prospect of the water coming to a stand before the danger line is reached. The backwater is all about Sturgis, which is five miles from the Ohio.

Senator Lindsay's Idea.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 28.—The following statement bearing on the Spanish situation was received here from Senator William Lindsay: "The proper course for this government to pursue is to recognize the independence of the Cubans and follow that up by such assistance as they may require to bring peace on the island."

Shot From Ambush.

LIVINGSTON, Ky., March 28.—William Handley, who shot and killed John Lawrence at Brush creek, this county, about a month ago, was fired upon 14 times from behind a pile of cross ties, while waiting for a train at Brush creek Sunday. He is only slightly wounded.

Two Tired of Life.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 29.—Two residents of Louisville, who were tired of life, ended it Monday morning. Val Roth, a printer, despondent because out of work, hanged himself, while Theodore Carter, a war veteran, crazed by rheumatism, shot himself.

A Boy Murderer.

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky., March 29.—Alex. Reeves, aged 14 years, shot and killed Jesse Lang, aged 12, at Longview Sunday evening. Reeves is in jail and claims it was accidental. The verdict of the coroner's inquest says the shooting was not justifiable.

Examined for Weapons.

HYDES, Ky., March 29.—Every one who enters the courthouse here during the present term of the circuit court is searched for weapons. Guards are stationed at the door for this purpose.

Only Fifteen Years Old.

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky., March 29.—The jury in the case of Edward Carney, on trial in the circuit court charged with unlawfully detaining a woman, returned a verdict of guilty and sending him to the penitentiary for a term of two years. He is only 15 years old and belongs to an influential family.

Officer Shot to Death.

SALYERSVILLE, Ky., March 28.—Charles Anderson, deputy sheriff of this county, while on the Middle York road Friday morning, was shot to death by a man said to be Everett Dyer.

Laundry Burned.

HENDERSON, Ky., March 25.—At 1 o'clock Friday morning E. S. Holloway's steam laundry was destroyed by fire. The outfit was valued at $3,500, with no insurance. Laundry to the amount of $500 was burned. The building was owned by Mrs. Meyer, of Cincinnati. It was gutted, and was valued at $3,500. Partly insured.

A. D. Davis calls to J. E. Kemper for $20.

Better keep a few hens well, than a great many only half right.

Brown Fox bought several horses Monday morning from $75 to $150.

Lyon & Allen bought of Cotton & Moore 27 year-old cattle at $42.50 per head.

Baughman Bros. sold to Young Bros., of Adair, a bunch of short yearlings at $12.

Baughman Beazley bought 23 shoats of various parties, averaging 125 lbs. at $14-c.

Alex Gibbs bought of Sam Emory a bunch of nice shoats, averaging 125 lbs. at $14-c.

W. A. and R. A. Beazley sold to Col. Robinson a load of heavy hogs averaging 190 lbs. at $12-c.

W. H. Burton sold a nice 5-year-old combined mare Monday to Brown Bros., of Nicholasville, at $125.

Alex Gibbs bought of Taylor Raney and others of that neighborhood, a nice lot of 115 lb. shoats at $14-c per pound.

The many failures in the poultry business are due to being in too great a hurry. Commence at the bottom and work your way up.

If you are contemplating trying the secrets of artificial incubation, don't expect the machine to hatch gold dollars out of the eggs.

The Record is prepared to print nice, neat horse cards at reasonable prices. Owners of stallions and Jacks in Garrard and adjoining counties will earn many a dollar by advertising their stock in THE RECORD.

Mr. Lewis McBrayer has bought through Rice, Curley & Co., Harrodsburg's live real estate agency, the old Peter Dano farm, 315 acres, near McAfee, at $40 an acre. Mr. McBrayer will move to the place in a few days.—Harrodsburg Democrat.

A man may succeed well upon 50 or 100 acres of land; he doubles the size of his farm, but it is only to find that he makes no more money than he did before, for his theories do not hold in practice. The exception comes to him who takes to stock raising.

The draft horse does the work of the farm most satisfactorily, and with less expense and worry; sell higher and more readily; costs less to get him ready for market; service fee is not high; he costs less time and work to break him.

Farmers take notice. Don't give any order for wire fence or fencing machines until you see L. B. Hughes, who handles the best on the market. Call on or address L. B. Hughes, Marksburg, Garrard County, Ky., or leave orders with J. R. Haselden Lancaster, Kentucky.

Oats and peas are good food for sheep because they are not so heating as more carbonaceous food, like corn and meal. The use of too much heating food may cause a shedding of wool, and this may reduce the strength and vitality of the animal as well.

In 1888 my wife went East and was attacked with rheumatism. She received no relief until she tried Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Since that time we have never been without it. We find it gives instant relief in cases of burns and scalds and is never failing for all rheumatic and neuralgic pains.—D. C. PRANT, Santa Ynez, Cal. For sale by E. E. McElberts, Lancaster Ky.

The Richmond Pantograph says: Mr. J. W. Bales, who represents a large cattle exporting firm in New York, received a telegram Saturday advising him to discontinue shipment of cattle for the present owing to unsettled market caused by war situation.

The Jessamine Journal says: Quite a number of good horses exchanged hands here last Monday. Geo. H. Taylor sold to H. Ingram, of Indianapolis, Ind., a four-year-old seal brown blackney by Little Swell for $125. Walter Goetts sold a chestnut gelding, four-year-old, to Wm. Peel for Pennsylvania parties for $75 and $65. Joseph Wallace bought of T. T. Leavelle a two-year-old chestnut filly by Warlock, price private.

Monday being a very rainy day not much was done on the streets. There were 500 or 600 cattle on the market but they were mostly withdrawn at prices offered, only a few being sold. Horses were dull. J. C. Hays sold a bunch of yearlings to the Messrs. Henderson, of Madison, which were about the only sale made of any consequence. There were buyers for good cattle but the inclemency of the weather kept the better quality away and we might say that court day in Lancaster was a failure so far as trading was concerned, but the feeling was good and will be better by April court.

LUNCHEON ITEMS.—John Woolf sold to John Fox a gelding for $100. R. G. Fox bought of P. W. Carter a harness gelding for $100. B. N. Boller sold to J. H. Baughman his harness horse for $75. Mark Hardin bought of William Lunsford a short-horn cow for $35 and a sow and pigs for $15. G. A. Swinebroad sold at Danville Monday a yoke of oxen at $14-c and a bull for $40 and bought a bunch of calves at $10. Lyon & Allen sold at Danville Monday five plain 1,000-pound cattle at $14-c. They bought 17 long yearlings at $33.30 and sold them the same day to Cobb & Lillard at $10 profit on the bunch. A. M. Feland has a mare which is 23 years old and which has raised 18 fine colts and is now suckling and 19th one. Several of the mules she has raised have sold for $100 each at a yearling and one of them brought him $125 at that age.—Interior Journal.

THE JOURNEY OF HAGAR.

With Ishmael, Through the Desert and the Lesson It Teaches.

Footnote: Weary and Thirsty Abraham's Servant Led to Heaven for Nourishment and Food.—Interesting Sermon by Rev. Talmage, D. D.

Dr. Talmage's sermon Sunday was Gen. xxi, 19: "And God opened her eyes, and she saw a well of water; and she went and filled the bottle with water and gave the lad drink." Morning breaks upon Beer-sheba. There is an early stir in the house of old Abraham. There has been trouble among the domestics. Hagar, an assistant in the household, and her son, a brisk lad of 16 years, have become impatient and insolent, and Sarah, the mistress of the household, puts her foot down very hard and says that they will have to leave the premises. They are packing up now. Abraham, knowing that the journey before his servant and her son will be very long and across desolate places, in the kindness of his heart sets about putting up some bread and a bottle of water in it. It is a very plain lunch that Abraham provides, but I warrant you there would have been enough of it had they not lost their way. "God be with you!" said old Abraham, as he gave the lunch to Hagar, and a good many charges as to how she should conduct the journey. Ishmael, the boy, supposed, however, away in this morning light. Hags always like a change. Poor Ishmael! He has no idea of the disasters that are ahead of him. Hagar gives one long, lingering look on the familiar place where she had spent so many happy days, each scene associated with the pride and joy of her heart, young Ishmael.

The scorching noon comes on. The air is stifling and moves across the desert with insufferable suffocation. Ishmael, the boy, begins to complain and lies down, but Hagar rouses him up, saying nothing about her own weariness or the sweltering heat; for mothers can endure these things. "Tie up your sandals," she says, "for the day is long, and the road is hard. Crossing the dead level of the desert, how wearily and slowly the miles slip! A tamarind that seemed hours ago to stand only just a little ahead, inviting travelers to come under its shadow, now is as far off as ever, or seemingly so. Night drops upon the desert, and the travelers are allowed to rest. Hagar, however, I suppose, instantly falls asleep. Hagar, as the shadows of the night begin to lap over each other—Hagar hugs her weary boy to her bosom and thinks of the fact that it is her fault that they are in the desert. A star looks out, and ever falling tear is kissed with a sparkle. A wing of wind comes over the hot earth and lifts the locks from the fevered brow of the boy. Hagar sleeps fitfully and in her own dreams travels over the weary day, and half awakes her son by crying out in her sleep, "Ishmael! Ishmael!"

And so they go on day after day, and night after night, for they have lost their way. No path in the shifting sands; no sign in the burning sky. The sack empty of flour; the water gone from the bottle. What shall she do? As she puts her fainting Ishmael under a stunted shrub of the arid plain, she sees the bloodshot eye, feels the hot hand, and watches the blood bursting from the cracked tongue, and there is a shriek in the desert of Beer-sheba. "We shall die! We shall die!" Now, no mother was ever made strong enough to hear her son cry in vain for a drink. Hereafter she had cheered her boy by promising a speedy end of the journey, and even smiled upon him when she felt desperately enough. Now there is nothing to do but place him under a shrub and let him die. She had thought that she would sit there and watch until the spirit of her boy would go away forever, and then she would breathe out her own life on his silent heart; but as the boy begins to claw his tongue in agony of thirst and struggle in distraction, and begs his mother to slay him, she can not endure the spectacle. She puts him under a shrub and goes off a bow-shot, and begins to weep until all the desert seems sobbing, and her cry strikes clear through the heavens; and an angel of God comes out on a cloud, and looks down upon the appalling grief and cries: "What art thou doing?" She looks up and she sees the angel pointing to a well of water, where she fills the bottle for the lad. Thank God! Thank God!

I learn from this oriental scene, in the first place, what a sad thing it is when people do not know their place and get too proud for their "business." Hagar was an assistant in the household, but she wanted to rule there. She ridiculed and jeered until her son, Ishmael, got the same tricks. She dashed out her own happiness and threw Sarah into a great fret; and if she had stayed much longer in that household she would have upset calm Abraham's equanimity. My friends, one-half the trouble in the world today comes from the fact that people do not know their place, or, finding their place, will not stay in it. When we come into the world there is always a place ready for us. A place for Abraham. A place for Sarah. A place for Hagar. A place for Ishmael. A place for each and every one of us. Our first duty is to find our sphere; our second is to keep it. We may be born in a sphere far off from the one for which God finally intends us. Sixtus V. was born on the low ground and was a swineherd; God called him up to wade a sear, Ferguson spent his early days in looking after sheep; God called him up to look after stars and be a shepherd watching the flocks of light on the hillside of heaven. Hogarth began by engraving pewter pots; God raised him to stand in the enchanted realm of a painter. The shoemaker's bench held Bloomfield for a little while; but God raised him to sit in the chair of a philosopher and Christian scholar. The soap boiler of London could not keep his son in that business, for God had decided that Hawley was to be one of the greatest astronomers of England.

On the other hand we may be born in a sphere a little higher than that for which God intends us. We may be born in a castle, and play in a costly conservatory, and feed high-bred pointers, and angle for gold fish in artificial ponds, and be familiar with the princess; yet God may better have fitted us for a carpenter's shop, or dentist's forceps, or a weaver's shuttle, or a blacksmith's forge. The great thing is to find just the sphere for which God intended us, and then to occupy that sphere, and occupy it forever.

Here is a man God fashioned to make a plow. There is a man God fashioned to make a constitution. The man who makes the plow is just as honorable as the man who makes the constitution. There is a woman who was made to fashion a robe, and you see some intended to be a queen and wear it. It seems to me that in the one case as in the other, God appoints the sphere, and the needle is just as respectable in His sight as the scepter. I do not know but that the world would long ago have been saved if some of the men out of the ministry were in it, and some of those who are in it were out of it. I really think that one-half the world may be divided into two quarters—those who have not found their sphere, and those who have found it, and are not willing to stay there. How many are struggling for a position a little higher than that which God intended for them! Hagar keeps crowding Sarah. The small wheel of a watch beautifully went treading its golden pathway wants to be the balance-wheel, and the sparrow with chagrin drops into the brook because it can not, like the eagle, cut a circle under the sun.

In the Lord's army we all want to be brigadier generals! The sloop says: "More mast, more tonnage, more canvas. Oh, that I were a topsail schooner, or a full-rigged brig, or a Cunard steamer!" And so the world is filled with cries of discontent, because we are not willing to stay in the place which God has intended for us. My friends, be not too proud to do anything God tells you to do; for the lack of a right disposition in this respect the world is strewn with wondering Hags and Ishmaels. God has given each one of us a work to do. You carry a scuffle of coal up that dark alley. You distribute the Christian tract. You give $10,000 to the missionary cause. You for 15 years sit with chronic rheumatism, displaying the beauty of Christian submission. Whatever God calls you to, whether it win hissing or huzzas; whether to walk under triumphal arch or lift the sod out of the ditch; whether to lead a regiment of soldiers or to sell your wanderer of the street of the mercy of the Christ of Mary Magdalene; whether it be to weave a garland for a laughing child on a spring morning and call her a Mary Queen, or to comb out the tangled locks of a waif of the street and cut up one of your old dresses to fit her out for the sanctuary—do it, and do it and do it right away. Whether it be a crown or yoke, do not flinch. Everlasting honors upon those who do their work, and do their whole work, and are contented in the sphere in which God has put them; while there is wandering, and exile, and desolation, and wiliness for discontented Hagar and Ishmael.

Again, I find in this Oriental scene a lesson of sympathy with woman when she goes forth treading in the desert. What a great change it was for this Hagar! There was the tent, and all the surroundings of Abraham's house, beautiful and luxurious, no doubt. Now she is led forth into the hot sands of the desert. Oh, what a change it was! And in our day we often see the wheel of fortune turn. Here is some one who lived in the very bright home of her father. She had everything possible to administer to her happiness—plenty at the table, music in the drawing room, welcome in the parlor. She is led forth into life by some one who can not appreciate her. A dissipated son comes and takes her out in the desert. Cruelties blot out all the lights of that home circle. Harsh words wear out her spirits. The high hopes that shone out over the marriage altar while the ring was being put on her finger, have all faded with the orange blossoms, and there she is to-day broken hearted, thinking of past joys and present desolation and coming anguish. Hagar in the wilderness!

Here is beautiful home. You can not think of anything that can be added to it. For years there has not been the suggestion of a single trouble. Bright and happy children fill the house with laughter and song. Books to read. Pictures to look at. Lounges to rest on. Cup of domestic joy full and running over. Dark night drops. Pillow hot. Pulses flutter. Eyes close. And the foot shows well-known steps on the door sill brought a whole household out at eventide crying: "Father's coming!" will never sound on the door sill again. A long, deep grief plowed through all the brightness of domestic life. Paradise lost. Widowhood. Hagar in the wilderness. How often is it we see the weak arm of woman conscripted for the battle with the rough world. Who is she, going down the street in the early light of the morning, pale with exhaustion, not half slept out with the slumbers of last night, tragedies of suffering written all over her face, her lustreless eyes looking far ahead, as though for the coming of some other power? Her path is strewn with the thorns of the world. Who is she, going down the street in the early light of the morning, pale with exhaustion, not half slept out with the slumbers of last night, tragedies of suffering written all over her face, her lustreless eyes looking far ahead, as though for the coming of some other power? Her path is strewn with the thorns of the world. Who is she, going down the street in the early light of the morning, pale with exhaustion, not half slept out with the slumbers of last night, tragedies of suffering written all over her face, her lustreless eyes looking far ahead, as though for the coming of some other power? Her path is strewn with the thorns of the world.

Again, I find in this oriental scene the fact that every mother leads forth tremendous destinies. "You say, 'That isn't an unusual scene, a mother leading her child by the hand.' Who is it that she is leading?" Ishmael, you say. Who is Ishmael? A great nation is to be founded—a nation so strong that it stands for thousands of years against all the armies of the world. Egypt and Assyria thunder against it, but in vain. Gaius brings up his army; and his army is smitten. Alexander decides upon a campaign, brings up his hosts, and dies.

For a long while that nation monopolizes the learning of the world. It is the nation of Arabs. Who founded it? Ishmael, the lad that Hagar led into the wilderness. She had no idea she was leading forth such destinies. Neither does any mother. You pass along the street and see and pass boys and girls who will yet make the earth quake with their influence. One of them is a boy named Pool, Plymouth. Eng. barefooted, wading down into the slush and slime, until his bare foot comes upon a piece of glass and he lifts it, bleeding and pain-struck? That wound in the foot decides that he be sedentary in his life, decides that he be a student. That wound by the glass in the foot decides that he shall be John Kitto, who shall provide the best religious encyclopaedia the world has ever had provided, and, with his other writings as well, throwing a light upon the Word of God such as has come from no other man in this century. Oh, mother, mother, that little hand that wanders over your face may yet be lifted to hurl thunderbolts of war or drop benedictions! That little voice may proclaim the word in the groshop, or cry "Forward!" to the Lord's hosts as they go out for their last victory. My mind this morning leaps 30 years ahead, and I see a merchant prince of New York. One stroke of his pen brings a ship out of Canton. Another stroke of his pen brings a ship in. He is the master of all the money markets of the world. Who is he? He sits on Sabbaths beside you in church. My mind leaps 30 years forward from this time, and I find myself in a relief association. A great multitude of Christian women have met together for a generous purpose. There is one woman in that crowd who seems to have the confidence of all the others, and they all look up to her for counsel and for her prayers. Who is she? This afternoon you will find her in the Sabbath-school, while the teacher tells her that Christ, who clothed the naked, and fed the hungry, and healed the sick, My mind leaps forward 30 years from now, and I find myself in an African jungle, and there is a missionary of the cross addressing the natives, and their dusky countenances are irradiated with the glad tidings of great joy and salvation. Who is he? Did you not hear her voice to-day in the opening song of your church service? My mind leaps forward 30 years from now, and I find myself looking through the wickedness of a prison. I see a face searred with every crime. His chin on his open palm, his elbow on his knee—a picture of despair. As I open the wicket he starts, and I hear his chain clank. The jail-keeper tells him that he is in the prison for 30 years—first for theft, then for arson, and now for murder. He steps upon the trap door, the rope is fastened to his neck, the plank falls, his body swings in the air, his soul wings off into eternity. Who is he, and where is he? This afternoon playing kite on the city commons. Mother, you are now holding a string that is forcing a chain you are kindling a star or digging a dungeon.

A Christian mother a good many years ago sat teaching lessons of religion to her child, and he drank in those lessons. She never knew that Lamplighter would come forth and establish the nation-street prayer-meeting, and her own meeting revolutionize the devotions of the whole earth and thrill the eternities with his Christian influence. Lamplighter said it was his mother who brought him to Jesus Christ. She never had an idea that she was leading forth such destinies. But oh, when I see a mother reckless of her own health, sitting on a low stool, her feet on the floor, her hands on her knees, her eyes on her child, her heart on her child, her soul on her child, her life on her child, her all on her child, I feel that she is kindling a star or digging a dungeon.

Long Live Cuba. VALPARAISO, Ind., March 30.—A thousand students of the Northern Indiana Normal school and the citizens, headed by the city band, paraded the principal streets of the city Tuesday night, carrying banners reading "Long live Cuba," and "Down with Spain," and an effigy labeled Premier Sagasta, with the stars and stripes floating at the head of the procession. The crowd marched to the court house yard and there hung Sagasta in effigy. Speeches were made by a number of students condemning Spain and endorsing the stand taken by congress Tuesday. Then torches were applied to the effigy and it was burned.

THE Southern Mutual Investment Co., OF LEXINGTON, KY. OUR PLAN.

Our plan is a new application of an old principle, and is based upon the actual experience of successful life insurance companies, covering a period of over 200 years. The same principles govern both, only—

WE pay while you LIVE.

THEY pay when you DIE.

WE offer the INVESTMENT features.

THEY protect in case of DEATH.

With them, death is the moving factor, causing the payment of the policy; with us, a definite and fixed mathematical rule, in lieu of death, matures the policy.

INSURANCE IS A LAW OF AVERAGE.

They figure on so many men out of a thousand dying—we figure on so many policies. They kill the man—we kill the policy.

There is no reason why a man should die to reap the benefit of his investment.

We return an average of $2.30 for every dollar paid us, and yet we assume an obligation less than one-third as great as has been assumed and paid for years by the leading life insurance companies of America.

OUR MISSION.

Only about twenty (20) per cent. of the people are insurable. Only the sound and healthy, who least need it's advantages, can obtain life insurance. Why should there not be a means provided whereby the other eighty (80) per cent. of the population can carry an investment the same as the favored few who can get life insurance? Our mission is to open the door to the entire population to enjoy the same or greater benefits for an equal or less expenditure, considering the advantage to be derived, and that those advantages may be enjoyed during life by the one making the investment.

NOTHING SUCCEEDS LIKE SUCCESS.

That our plan is popular and based upon sound business principles, is evidenced by our large and increasing membership, as shown by our remarkable "Exhibit of Growth, See literature.

We court the clyst scrutiny and most thorough investigation. No statement made that cannot be verified by actual results.

Others Make Money. Why Not You?

The endorsement given this Company by the investment of bankers, lawyers, merchants, ministers, doctors, railroad men, mechanics—in fact, men of business sagacity in every vocation of life—is an evidence of the soundness of our system.

ACTUAL RESULTS, AND OPINIONS OF SOME OF OUR CERTIFICATE HOLDERS.

REV. J. V. RILEY, of Mortonsville, Ky., says: "I have had an investment in the Southern Mutual Investment Co., of Lexington, Ky., for more than three years. I have had 23 coupons to mature by redemption, which cost me less than $500.00, and returned to me $1,416.00." LEXINGTON, KY., September 10, 1897.

To whom it may concern. This is to certify, that my husband, W. F. White, about three years ago, invested in the Southern Mutual Investment Co. Since that time there have been 26 coupons to mature, on which the Company has paid his estate $1,621.96. These coupons cost his estate less than $700.00 to mature them. I am pleased with the investment he made, and am still carrying 64 coupons in the Company. MARY E. WHITE.
